DRAGONCELLO LIQUEUR

Harvested by hand from the Garden of Earthly Delights at our production center in Greer, SC, the estate grown herb French Tarragon, Artemisia dracunculus, gives the name to Dragoncello or "Little Dragon." As an herb that has been cultivated from the times of the Ancient Greeks to Thomas Jefferson, it is a treasured aromatic.

Improved immensely by ageing, this exotic liqueur, redolent of spices, faint traces of anise and licorice, scented and aromatic, never coy but enticing, is well served after a meal or alongside biscotti or ice creams, and can be used in fine patisserie baking.
