LICORICE LIQUEUR

In the early Middle Ages troubadours, the wandering lyric musicians and poets, used to sing in the visited courts: "Love is a dream, sweet as milk and licorice".

The world's finest Licorice is widely agreed to come from Calabria, in the south of Italy, where we source the ingredients, and is naturally sweet and full of flavor. Licorice Liqueur, or "black soul" as it is known in Calabria, and made with the purest licorice roots from the region, has a unique and intense flavor, wonderfully enveloping, with a long lingering after-taste like a fine coffee or a great single malt scotch.

Empty your mind of preconceived ideas of the licorice flavor, as true licorice root differs greatly from tawdry candies. Exquisite on its own, or on ice, it also is a fantastic ingredient for cocktail and with experimenting in the kitchen: try it on ice-cream, in desserts or even in meat dishes to add depth of flavor. You won't believe it is licorice!
